WIZARD THEATRE

THE CAT AND THE CANARY - Selig

A quaint pastoral comedy drama laid in old New England. The story is unusual and the acting excellent. The entire story is carried by two players, aided by the almost human action of a cat, canary and two dogs. Don't miss this one.

THE CHURCH ACROSS THE WAY - Vitagraph

It cheers and brightens. Bringing happiness to the heart of a downcast man. A new found joy in life.

A VIOLIN AND A PIPE - Cines

A series of humorous situations, admirably handled.

JENKINS SNEEZES

A screaming comedy.

THE CLOSE OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION - Edison

The American Revolution opened with a great ride and closed with one also, but the latter is not nearly so well known as the first, Paul Revere's. This latter is the ride of Jack Jonett, and is shown in this reel as also some army maneuvers and the surrender at Yorktown.

ON THE CACTUS TRAIL - Essanay Western

A Western with G. M. Anderson, so you know it is good.

CLEVER SWINDLE IS UNSUCCESSFUL

Newton A. Tawney, of Gettysburg, Taken to Point a Mile East of Town where he Fails to Fall into Swindlers' Trap.

Newton A. Tawney, of 60 East Middle street, was the point of attack on the part of two unsuccessful swindlers this morning. The scene of the attempt to relieve the local citizen of some money took place along the Bonneauville road about a mile east of town and the game was unusual.

During the morning a stranger, described as of medium height, with florid face and red hair, aged about 55 called at Mr. Tawney's home and, failing to find him there drove to Centre Square where he found his man. The visitor asked Mr. Tawney whether he knew where the old Ephraim Deardorff farm was situated and, upon being answered in the affirmative, asked the Gettysburgian whether he would care to accompany him in a trip to that place as he had in view the purchase of the place. Mr. Tawney had nothing else to do and got into the buggy.

The farm is located about a mile and a half east of Gettysburg and after a superficial inspection of the place the two men started on the return trip. They had come but a short distance when they were accosted by a man, walking along the road, who said he wanted to know the way to Bonneauville.

They engaged him in conversation and he volunteered the information that he was just returning from New York where he had been "deeced" out of $20,000 in a card game. The man with Mr. Tawney showed interest and the pedestrian produced four playing cards three spot cards and a joker. He said that in New York he had gotten to betting that he could find the joker, and, failing, had lost the big sum of money. He had then picked up the cards and left the place.

As a bit of experiment the man in the buggy then tried to pick out the joker and, succeeding, was handed $5 by the supposed unfortunate gambler. Mr. Tawney was asked to try his hand and, noticing that the corner on the lucky card was turned a trifle, had no trouble in picking it out. The man who owned the cards handed him a five dollar bill which Mr. Tawney said he did not want it as he had put up nothing and was not entitled to it. His "friend" in the buggy immediately whispered,

"You might as well take it. The fool will give his money to some one else and we might as well have it as they."

Mr. Tawney said nothing but just held the money in his hand. The man with him again turned up the joker and the man in the road then produced a roll of paper—having the appearance of real money—and said it contained $20,000. Mr. Tawney was given a similar roll when he again found the joker. At this stage of the game the owner of the cards suggested that the "winners" put up $60,000. The man in the buggy held a conference with Mr. Tawney who cleverly agreed upon a trip back to town to secure the funds. The stranger consented, to wait until their return and after putting the two five dollar bills and the two rolls of "money" in a tin box under the seat the driver started his horse slowly toward Gettysburg. They had scarcely started when the owner of the cards disappeared in the bushes. Some minutes afterward Mr. Tawney saw him driving after them in a buggy which he had evidently secreted at the side of the road. He followed the entire way to town.

The man with Mr. Tawney drove right up to his home on Middle street, allowed him to get out without suggesting anything about raising the money and then continued on. The following buggy contained the other of the pair who had changed his clothing between the time he left the two in the road and the time he started after them.

As soon as this man had passed, Mr. Tawney who had stood at his front door followed at a distance and noticed that both teams went in the same direction but he finally lost sight of them.

The supposition is that the parties hoped to get the local man to show some real money while they engaged in the game along the road outside of town and, failing to do this, gave up hope and suggested raising the $60,000 to get Mr. Tawney back to town.

RETURNED FROM TWO LONG TRIPS

Gettysburgians Return from Extensive Automobile Trips. Mr. Johns Takes Car almost Three Thousand Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pfeffer returned Sunday from an automobile trip which covered 2950 miles and lasted a number of weeks. Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hartman returned the same day from a trip of 600 miles. All of the travelers report interesting experiences.

The Johns-Pfeffer party went as far west as Galesburg, Illinois, going to Canton, Ohio, from here by way of Bedford and Pittsburgh. From Canton they went to Lima, then to Marion and Indianapolis and then visited the following towns in Illinois, Champagne, Bloomington, Peoria, Elwood, Maquon, Knoxville and Galesburg.

After spending several weeks in that section of Illinois they went to Chicago, to South Bend, and then to Michigan where they visited a number of the principal cities. From Port Huron they crossed by ferry to Canada and came east through London and Hamilton to Niagara Falls, returning to Gettysburg by way of Elmira, Williamsport and Harrisburg.

Mr. Johns' car stood the trip remarkably despite very bad roads.

Dr. Hartman's trip lay through Bedford and Pittsburgh to Steubenville, Ohio, returning home by way of Wheeling West Virginia Washington, Pa., Uniontown, Cumberland, Frostburg and Hagerstown. He also reported bad roads, crossed in many places by washouts which had carried away bridges. His car, too, stood the test most satisfactorily.

PENN DEFEAT NOT SO BAD

Going down to defeat before the University of Pennsylvania on Franklin Field Saturday by the overwhelming score of 35 to 0, the Gettysburg foot ball team demonstrated to spectators what has been known by the coaches, since the beginning of the season—that the squad has much undeveloped green material which, with hard work and careful coaching, will give a good account of itself later in the year.

At Philadelphia Saturday they met a team composed of men of vastly more foot ball experience, of much greater weight and thoroughly versed in all departments of the game. This aggregation completely swept the Gettysburg boys off their feet in the first two periods and when the initial half ended four touch downs had been scored.

With the same line-up on both sides the second half opened and before it had proceeded many minutes the Gettysburg boys showed the stuff of which they were made, preventing Penn from scoring throughout the entire third period and holding them safe until the latter part of the fourth quarter of the game. Penn did not put in substitutes until the last few minutes of play when Gettysburg did the same and Penn's strongest line-up was in the game practically the entire time.

Hoar was Gettysburg's star tackler, stopping Penn's brilliant backfield men time after time when they had eluded the balance of the Gettysburg team. The university's interference was almost invulnerable and they went with ease around Gettysburg's ends and through the line.

Gettysburg was able to do little in advancing the ball and made but one first down throughout the entire game. The entire squad will now be put through vigorous paces in preparation for the balance of the season. Saturday's game demonstrated the present weakness of the local college eleven but equally well did it demonstrate the possibilities for the coming games and a vast improvement is expected in the game next Saturday with Lebanon Valley on Nixon Field.

STAB POLICEMEN IN LABOR RIOT

Parade of Industrial Workers Dispersed at Lawrence.

20,000 WERE IN LINE

Procession Was a Demonstration For Those Killed During the Strike Riots Last January.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 30.—Police and paraders fought with knives and clubs prior to a demonstration here by members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Two officers were stabbed, a number of demonstrators were clubbed and an I. W. W. leader captured after a hard fight and then freed. Only two arrests were made. One shot was fired from the ranks of the paraders.
Carlo Tresca, of Pittsburgh, Pa., an editor, who is an organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, was in custody, but gained his freedom a minute or two later. Persons who saw Tresca's arrest said he was rescued by comrades. Tresca, with a smile, said the police let him go. All of the police professed to be ignorant of the occurrence.

The clash was quite unexpected. More than 20,000 operatives met at the railroad station to welcome 700 members of the I. W. W., who had come from Boston to participate in a parade to the graves of Anna Lopizzo and John Rany, who were killed during the strike riots last January. After the visitors had detained an impromptu parade was started, turning finally into Essex street, the main business thoroughfare of the city.

The parade was informal, and no application had been made for a parade permit. The police, notified that the operatives were marching, attempted to end the demonstration. A squad of twenty-five officers was sent to Essex and Lawrence streets, where they threw a line across Essex street and waited for the arrival of the procession.

Two large banners were carried by the marchers. One was inscribed "The Only Justice—Freedom for Eitor and Giovannitti." The other bore the words "Police and Militia," and below "Who Killed Anna and John."

When the head of the parade reached the line of officers it halted and an argument began. The police notified the marchers that they must disperse because they had no permit. Those in the front rank were endeavoring to fall back, when suddenly the marchers in the rear pressed forward and the mill workers tried to pass the police.

They struck right and left at the officers, who responded by swinging their clubs. Many of the paraders were knocked, bleeding, to the ground. In some instances the marchers robbed the officers of their clubs and began to retreat into Lawrence street. It was here that Tresca was seized by officers, who started with him toward the police station nearby.

Angered by the arrest of their leader, the crowd made a rush for the officers. The police appeared to be fighting to hold their prisoner, but a moment or two later Tresca was at liberty.

During the fight two Italians, Sebastiano de Mano and Vito Longestrate, were arrested and taken to the station house. As they were being taken through the door of the station house a revolver shot was heard. It appeared to have been fired by some one in the crowd, but the operatives cried out that the police were shooting. Later the crowd was driven through Lawrence street and onto the common where the paraders dispersed.

After the excitement was over, Policeman Thomas McCarty discovered that he had been cut on the head with some blunt instrument and had also received a slight stab wound behind the ear. Another policeman, whose name was withheld, received two slight stab wounds in the back.

FOUR SLAIN IN THEIR BEDS

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 30.—It is believed that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfanschmidt, their sixteen-year-old daughter Blanche and Miss Emma Kaempfen, twenty-one years old, a teacher, whose charred bodies were found in the ruins of Pfanschmidt's country home, near Payson, sixteen miles southeast of Quincy, were murdered.

Circumstances indicate that the victims perished while asleep. Nothing remained of their bodies except the charred skeletons. One thing that led the state's attorney to investigate is the fact that the only stove on the premises was not in the residence, but in a small frame structure adjoining the main dwelling.

Charged With Man's Death

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 30.—A coroner's jury returned a verdict charging Charles W. Magill, a saloonkeeper and machine politician, with responsibility for the death of William Leech, who died of a fractured skull last Wednesday following a quarrel.

100 Pupils Enrolled in Classes in Columbia University.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Pulitzer school of journalism, which has been contemplated since 1903, became a reality this afternoon, when the exercises were held in Earl hall, Columbia university.

Although plans for the new course were announced only last April, there are already 100 students enrolled in the classes and are to begin tomorrow, and they have come from all parts of the United States and almost from all parts of the world.

Dr. Talcott Williams, formerly of the Philadelphia Press, the director of the school, made the opening address to the students, and told them of the aims and plans of the school.

HIS 13-YEAR-OLD WIFE MUST GO TO SCHOOL

Husband Ordered to Send Her Until She is 15.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—John Palasis, of Logan street, must send his thirteen-year-old wife to school for another year, according to Magistrate Boyle, or he will have to go to jail.

The girl was reported by the truant officer, and her father was arrested for the violation of the school attendance act.

The smiling little helpmeet waved a marriage certificate before the astonished magistrate and said:

"I no go to school. I stay home and make beds and get husband's meals." Magistrate Boyle concluded matters by fining the father $14 and costs, and told the husband that if he did not send her to school until she was fifteen years of age, that he would be arrested and fined also.

HOUSE DROPS INTO MINE

Family Warned by Flying Furniture Before Building Turns.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 30.—As the members of the family of George McKelchie, of Courtland, were eating dinner there came a loud report and the tossing about of furniture.

The family rushed out to find that a mine cave had occurred under the house and that the cellar walls had been almost completely lost in an opening which extended into the mine and which was large enough to swallow several buildings.

The damp condition of the earth permitted the house to sink, and the gradual settlements finally turned the building on its end.

This is the second cave to occur at the same place within the last year. One year ago the building was upturned. It was set back in place, and after weeks of labor the cave hole was filled up. The property is undermined by the Kingston Coal company.

ROW IN PEACE CONGRESS

"Brigands," Applied to Italian Airmen, Interrupts Proceedings.

Geneva, Sept. 30.—Another stormy scene marked the concluding session of the International Peace Congress here.

The uproar was caused by a speech by Dr. Gobat, in which the president of the International Bureau of Peace characterized the Italian airmen who have been operating in Tripoli during the war as "brigands of the air."

Loud cries of protest were raised in several sections of the audience, and the speaker was compelled to stop for several minutes. The congress decided to meet next year at The Hague and in 1914 at Maribad.

Prisoners Flee Jail

Georgetown, Del., Sept. 30.—A startling jail delivery took place here, Sheriff Buell, hearing a noise went to the part of the jail where he kept the most desperate prisoners confined in steel cages, to find the doors open and five of them gone. All efforts to capture them have failed.

Says Husband Has Five Affinities

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 30.—Pauline Fruchs, wife of Dr. Samuel Fruchs, in a suit for divorce, asserts that her husband, who is wealthy, has five affinities, and that his attentions to these women caused her to be neglected.

T. R. SPOKE IN 27 STATES

Traveled 10,000 Miles in Tour Around Country.

WILL REST A DAY OR TWO

Colonel Will Appear Before Clapp Committee Oct. 4 and Then Tour the Middle West.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Colonel Roosevelt will finish on Wednesday his swing around the country. When he arrives in New York he will have completed a tour of 10,000 miles and have visited every section of the republic. He will have made his appeal for Progressive support to the people of twenty-seven states.

During the month of October he will speak in the middle west, including Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, address a few crowds in Pennsylvania and make short dashes into New England. The last five days of the campaign he will devote to New York.

The colonel will not permit himself to rest more than a day or two at Oyster Bay. He must appear before the Clapp senatorial investigating committee on Oct. 4 and immediately thereafter resume his stumping.

The colonel will be ready for the inquisitors. He will bring to Washington his letter press copy books and will be prepared to answer in detail every question in connection with his attitude toward the Standard Oil company.

The latest threat of William R. Hearst, that if the colonel does not tell the whole truth, he will make public incriminating letters, Mr. Roosevelt meets with the statement he has heretofore made—that if Mr. Hearst has any documentary evidence he should give it to the press; or if he has any knowledge of any letter written by the colonel and will indicate its character and date, the former president says he will hunt through his letter press books, and if he finds it will give it out himself. The colonel does not intend to answer Hearst till he appears before the committee.

In speeches he will deliver today and tomorrow in Tennessee and North Carolina the colonel will answer the attack upon him made by President Taft.

The colonel is not disposed to pay much attention to the president as a candidate for re-election. He holds, as he frequently has said, that he is a "dead cock in the pit."

The states the colonel has visited and in which he appears to have an excellent prospect of carrying are: Iowa, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, California and Kansas. The states in which the colonel's more than a fighting chance are: North Dakota, Idaho, Nevada, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Tennessee. The states for which the colonel must struggle are: Connecticut, Montana and Oklahoma.

Governor Wilson looks to be the victor in the following states, though in them the Progressives have formed militant organizations: Arizona, New Mexico, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia.

The colonel's prospects of carrying North Dakota are lessened by the hostile attitude of Senators LaFollette and Gronna, but in the end it is believed he will win its electoral vote.

ORIGIN OF MOOSE NICKNAME

Clerk Thinks Roosevelt Was Thinking of His Alaska Order.

Washington, Sept. 30.—A state department clerk has partly answered the question, "Why did Colonel Roosevelt think of the moose when he used that word in Chicago which resulted in the Progressive party being given the nickname?"

A few days ago this clerk was digging through the executive orders of presidents of the United States, and he came on the following, signed Feb. 27, 1907:

"It is hereby ordered that Fire Island, located approximately in latitude 41 degrees 15 minutes north, longitude 73 degrees 15 minutes west, from Greenwich, and near the head of Cook Inlet, south of Alaska, be and the same is hereby reserved and set apart for use of the department of agriculture as a preserve and breeding ground for the Alaska moose."

Banished Prince Coming

Paris, Sept. 30.—Prince Ludovic Piguetelli d'Aragon sailed from Havre for New York under a decree of expulsion issued a year ago. The charge on which the prince was expelled was infringement of the gambling laws. The authorities were unable to serve the decree before Sept. 24.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

BECOMING ATTIRE DESIGNED TO BE WORN AT WORK.

Pretty and Practical Garments Are at Command and May Be Procured at Cost That Is Really Remarkable.

Never were housekeeping garments more coquettish than now, and the woman is foolish, indeed, who goes about her home duties unbecomingly attired. From the housekeeper's working gown itself—that useful garment which must often stand a deal of drudgery, down to the apron in which she does her preserving and canning, styles are immensely pretty, while losing nothing of practicality.

This is an excellent season for the sewing of working clothes, but if there is no time for the larger pieces of work, the frocks needed can be ready made at small cost. All of the shops keep the little wash cotton gowns needed, dubbing them house dresses or maid's dresses, and they are as cheap as cheap, good models in durable materials selling as low sometimes as 98 cents. The frocks are in one-piece style, with white bands upon color, and plain bands upon figured fabrics, and the buyer who loves dainty effects may indulge in charming colors—violet, pale blue, or some shades of green, yellow or pink. Why wash dishes in an ugly dress when you can get a pretty one that washes quite as well, perhaps better? The unsightly home gowns are commonly made in dark colors, and these are less likely to stand soap and water than are the light colors.

Our sketch presents the working apron in a very desirable phase, and the material used in this case is blue and white percale. The front and sides of the apron are cut separately so that a narrow goods could be used, and the capacity of the pocket is decidedly strengthened through its being put into the seam. Checked gingham, denim and crash would make the more sturdy aprons which would be wanted in this style, but the gayer cottons, white with floral figures, are very pretty and much used. A sleeve protector in the same material as the apron is a useful detail, and a good model for this is also shown with the picture. The top is of sheeting in a loose weave, and it is gathered in a tape, which is removed for laundering.

Mop caps are always becoming to pretty faces, and when in correct fabrics they seem to give a proper finish for working clothes. Besides, they protect the hair from dust and kitchen odors and seem to indicate a punctilious neatness in all kitchen matters. Some charming house caps of workaday sort are made of big bandanna handkerchiefs, arranged so that two points will fall over the ears. Caps for afternoon use are bewilderingly pretty, little foibles of muslin and ribbon, which in many cases are worn with a tiny matching apron. The two pretty things are for afternoon tea use, and they are likewise donned for the club's sewing spree.

The aprons for this dressy use run to exceeding smallness. They are mere wisps, covering only the front of the skirt, and generally gathered over a ribbon waistband.

Novel Shoe Cases.

A woman who is hard on her silk stockings has learned to utilize the tops for bags for her shoes and slippers. When the runs and holes get undarned the tops of the stockings are cut off midway of the leg and the lower edge sewed across in a French seam.

A shoe is kept in each of these stocking bags, which take up no room, cost nothing and act as an absorber of dust. Sometimes the kind of shoe is outlined on the hem to make them more easily distinguishable.

MARK OF REFINEMENT

HOUSEWIFE FREQUENTLY JUDGED BY HER TABLE LINEN.

Certain Amount of Pride in Its Acquisition and Maintenance is Praiseworthy—Precautions to Be Taken in Laundry.

Not every woman takes the same pride in her linen chest as did her sisters of the past. She gazes with rapturous pleasure upon the neatly piled tablecloths and napkins and well-assorted doilies and centerpieces. Every housewife aimed to collect a goodly supply of table linen. Circumstances only governed her limitations. Where some women purchased twenty of one article, another would make a half dozen answer.

While the woman of today does not stock up linen for future generations, she should show taste and discrimination in the selection of her household linen.

It is impossible to regulate the quantity of table linen needed in each household. Few can get along with less than half a dozen tablecloths, a dozen napkins, half a dozen luncheon cloths of varying degrees of elaborateness, tray cloths, doilies and centerpieces.

Two grades of linen should be provided for everyday and best wear. Each should be the best in its class. Economy in linens does not pay in the long run.

Keep your supply over rather than below the limit. It struts the purse-strings unnecessarily to replenish many articles at the same time. An excellent plan is to lay aside a small sum each week or month for this purpose. Do not wait for a tablecloth to actually wear out before buying a new one.

The wise woman will take advantage of the linen sales, when soiled linens of an excellent quality may be had far below the original price. This prevents undue financial pressure when new linen is required.

Linens should be handled carefully. Never fold a tablecloth in the same manner twice in succession.

This has a tendency to make the cloth wear holes in the creases. Crumbs should be removed with a crumb brush; a scraper tends to roughen the surface of damask linen.

In case of stains upon a tablecloth, try the effect of putting a bowl under the stain and pouring boiling water through until the stain disappears. Cover a fruit stain first with salt. But-ter is also excellent before washing in boiling water. Carefully darn all holes and thin places in linen before laundering.

There are many forms in which table linen may be monogrammed. The work is becoming an art. If preferred, the monogram may be placed in the corner; but most persons at present place it in the center.

Never discard old linen. Worn tablecloths may be used in everyday serviettes or glass cloths, while the oldest linen is invaluable in case of illness.

He Made an Enemy.

"Once while traveling through my state I was noticing in particular the great amount of waste that was going on about me. During the afternoon I went into the dining car, which was crowded, so I sat down near one end of the car, opposite a fleshy lady, who, I thought, weighed at least 250 pounds.

"As I looked past the lady through the car window, not noticing her particularly, I was impressed by the vast amount of farm machinery that was unsheltered and exposed to the weather, and could not help but remark: 'What a waste!'

"The lady opposite me faced me squarely and said: 'Mister, you just mind your own business.'—Philadelphia Star.

Habit to Be Avoided.

The habit of ridiculing everything and everybody is one that every woman should avoid. We always find in others what we look for. It is such a mistake to cultivate the habit of looking for the grotesque or the ridiculous. It makes one's face on such hard, unpleasant, cynical lines. There are those persons to whom one dreads to introduce one's friends, for one is sure these friends will come under the merciless and scorching light of ridicule. The worst of it is, these unfair, self-appointed critics are usually more open to ridicule themselves than their victims.

Neutrality.

MRS. SCHENK ASKS DIVORCE

Woman Acquitted of Poisoning Husband Asks Separation.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, tried for the poisoning of her husband, John O. Schenk, a rich packer, has brought a counter suit for divorce.

Mrs. Schenk names Bessie Clayton, the dancer and vaudeville star, and a woman known only to her as "Lulu."

In her counter suit Mrs. Schenk, who was tried almost two years ago for the alleged attempt to poison her husband, denies she ever tried to kill him. She asks alimony and the custody of the two children.

ROOSTER DESTROYS EYES OF CHILD

3-Year-Old Boy Was Unable to Defend Himself.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 30.—The ferocity of a rooster cost little Johnnie Charles, aged three years, the sight of his eyes.

The boy was playing at his parents' home in Lincoln avenue, when the cock, that had been fighting in another yard, flew over the fence.

Johnnie rushed for the rooster and tried to take it in his hands. The enraged fowl knocked the little child down.

Although the lad fought to defend himself and cried for help, the bird pecked out his left eye and injured the other so badly that the physician says the vision is destroyed.

STEEPLE JACK TUMBLES

Falls Twenty-five Feet, Inside Stack, Breaking Many Bones.

Etaoin etaoin etaoin etaoin etaoin Bayonne, N. J., Sept. 30.—Benjamin Beasley, a daredevil steeplejack, in the employ of the Standard Oil company here, mounted a smokestack twenty-five feet high, and while straddling the top of it lost his balance and plunged down through the inside of the pipe.

He struck nine cross-beams before hitting the bottom and plunged out the door of a furnace from which the fire had been drawn.

When workmen ran to him he remarked calmly: "Gosh! That was some fall."

They took him to the Bayonne hospital, where it was found both legs his left arm and eleven ribs were fractured. "You cannot live two hours," Dr. Warner told him in reply to a question as he was about to administer an anesthetic.

"That being the case, I propose to die conscious," said Beasley. "Get one of the fellows to run around to my house, 30 West Twenty-sixth street and tell my wife. I want to see her."

Beasley is still alive and the doctors marveled at his vitality and apparent indifference to pain. He is only twenty-four years old and was married a few months ago.

FALL KILLS TWO ARMY AIRMEN

DROP ONLY THIRTY FEET

Aeroplane, About to Land, Rams Into the Earth and One Is Instantly Killed.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Lieutenant Lewis C. Rockwell, Tenth Infantry, and Corporal Frank S. Scott, of the army aviation school at College Park, are dead as the result of an aeroplane accident.

Corporal Scott was instantly killed, but Lieutenant Rockwell died on the operating table at the Walter Reed General hospital in Baltimore, where he was taken after the accident in the automobile of Captain Charles De Forest Chandler, commanding officer of the school.

The accident was due to the failure of the motor to stop running when Aviator Rockwell reached up to cut it off. The machine, which was but thirty feet from the ground and about to make a landing, plunged nose downward, into the earth.

More than 300 men and women witnessed the accident. Lieutenant Rockwell had taken the machine up for a last flight a few minutes before the accident occurred and found everything working right. Then he decided to make another trip and take a passenger with him. Corporal Scott, who was a mechanic in the hangar in which Lieutenant Rockwell kept his machine, agreed to go.

They climbed in and flew away. After gaining an altitude of 150 feet and having soared about for ten minutes they headed their machine downward. When with in thirty feet of the earth, Lieutenant Rockwell reached up to cut the engine off, but it refused to stop, and the biplane rammed into the ground with tremendous force and was smashed.

Scott was hurled several feet from the machine, while Rockwell lay a few feet away from him. Brother officers, who were acting as officials of the test flight, carefully picked up the two men. Scott was found to be lifeless, his skull being crushed, his clothing torn from him and his bones broken. Rockwell, with his head buried partly in the earth, still showed signs of life, but was unconscious. The army surgeon stationed at the field, after a hasty examination, ordered him rushed to the hospital in a final attempt to save his life. He never regained consciousness.

Former British Officer Killed.

Hempstead, N. Y., Sept. 30.—John L. Longstaff, a former English army officer, was killed while flying in a Farman biplane with his mechanic, Pierre Chavellier. When only seventy feet in the air, a wire became jammed and the machine instantly overturned and fell. Longstaff was caught in the debris and sustained internal injuries. He died in a hospital soon after. Chavellier, who was thrown clear of the wreck, is seriously but not fatally injured. He probably will lose his left eye.

Airship Kills a Woman.

Aussig, Austria, Sept. 30.—An aviator while making an exhibition flight near here was compelled to make a sudden landing in a field. The owner of the field and his wife were watching the aviator, when the aeroplane swooped, the propeller striking the woman and killing her instantly. Her husband was seriously injured.

CLEAN MONEY FOR XMAS

Mints Will Wash $25,000 Worth of Small Coins.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Twenty-five thousand dollars in halves, quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies is to be washed and brightened by the mint bureau of the treasury department to meet the Christmas demand for new coins.

Most of the work will be done at the Philadelphia mint, from which the coins will be issued.

Director of the Mint Roberts explained that there always is a heavy demand for new coin on the eve of the Christmas holidays, and that banks call the treasury department to supply the demand. For several years it has been increasingly difficult to supply the demand within the proper coinage bounds.

Cat Kills Bulldog.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—An Andorra cat owned by Mrs. Harry Lind of Venice, attacked and killed a full-blooded English bulldog owned by J. C. Promeyer, at Venice. Within two minutes the bulldog, bleeding and helpless, fell upon the sand. The cat then leaped upon the dog's head and with claws and teeth severed the animal's jugular vein.

Many Lose Their Homes.

Match Chunk, Pa., Sept. 30.—Sheriff August Beget is kept busy exposing to sheriff's sale the properties of borrowers of the defunct Leighton Building and Loan association. Scores of poor families have already been sold out, and in many instances the mortgages were almost paid off. The sheriff says this is the most unpleasant duty he ever performed.

ESCAPES LYNCHING BY POLICE'S ACTION

Take Alleged Murderer to Baltimore to Thwart Mob.

Easton, Md., Sept. 30.—News reached Easton that a large number of relatives and friends of John R. Callahan, who is alleged was murdered by Oscar Teets, colored, on Saturday night, Sept. 21, on the road leading to New Bridge, were formulating plans to lynch Teets.

The plan was to batter down the jail doors, overcome the guards and take possession of Teets. It was also said that a number of the mob were in Easton early on Saturday evening and made an inspection of the jail and surroundings.

Sheriff Haddaway, fearing for the safety of his prisoner, called up the state's attorney, Charles J. Butler, and Judge William H. Adkins; also T. Hughlett Henry, Teets' counsel, and after a hurried consultation it was decided to remove Teets to the Baltimore city jail.

Teets, securely handcuffed and accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs James A. Gannon and John H. Macchale, was taken from the jail, hurried into an automobile, in which he was taken to Harrington, Del., where he boarded an express train and safely landed in the Baltimore city jail.

Teets was to have had a hearing in Easton, but as the sentiment in the town runs high against him, he will be held in Baltimore to await the action of the Talbot county grand jury, which meets in November.

RISKS LIFE FOR CHILDREN

Wenonah, N. J., Sept. 30.—In an endeavor to save a number of children from being snatched and perhaps killed, Nuncio Crognalia came near losing his life.

While passing the residence of Andrew Hatch, Crognalia noticed an electric light wire dangling. A number of children were playing nearby, and he decided to place the wire out of harm's way. As he picked it up it had no effect on him, but as he attempted to wind it around a wet pole 2000 volts passed through his body and he was hurled to the ground.

Wayne Raiston, who was going gunning, was called by the children, and he took in the situation at once. The thought occurred to him that he could shoot off the wire, which he did. Crognalia was lying against the wet pole at the time, and was carried to Dr. Stout's office, where it required several hours to bring him around. The wire had burned through the flesh part of his hand into the bone.

Taft Electors Barred From Ballot.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—Attorney General U. S. Webb handed down a ruling that but one set of presidential electors can go on the November ballot as Republican electors—those chosen by a majority of the Sacramento convention and pledged to Roosevelt and Johnson. The opinion was given in reply to a request from Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

CLOTHES AS AN ATTRACTION

Admittedly Important, but Not Always the First Thing That Catches a Man's Eyes.

A writer on women's fashions recently declared that dress has become so important a factor nowadays that men notice a woman's dress before her face, and a pretty woman badly dressed is often passed by. A number of opinions on the subject from men are here given. A few are of opinion that a woman's hat and clothes would be the first thing they would notice. Others, however, think that a woman's face and hair would be the predominant factors of attraction. "Woman's dress is undoubtedly becoming a strong attraction to men's eyes," said one. "I think, however, it is an outdoor attraction, for a woman's clothes indoors do not, at first sight, attract a man. I care not whether the face is pretty, so long as it is not positively ugly. I am attracted. A woman who knows how to dress is bound to be interesting." A sportsman attributes the attraction of women to the following in the order given: (1) Her shoes and the shapeliness of her foot and ankle; (2) her face and complexion; (3) her hat; (4) her clothes. A poet holds that in a woman's face is the first, and indeed the only attraction. "Beautiful eyes make a woman significant in any company," he said. "Dress is as nothing beside a plainly attired woman with speaking, appealing eyes and eyebrows."

SHOES DEMAND PROPER CARE

Will Respond to Good Treatment and Are Quick to Resent Neglect or Carelessness.

Not very long ago the average woman felt she was becoming quite gay and extravagant when she indulged in the luxury of buying each season many pairs of shoes. Today she believes it is economy. Shoes, even the best of them, need rest; and, if they are to last long and always appear at their best, they demand it. And incidentally there is something very restful to one's feet in a change of shoes.

If you have few shoes or many, be sure to remember that you must treat them with consideration. The shoe which is carelessly kicked off and allowed to lie where it has been kicked will soon retaliate for this treatment by looking its ugliest. All shoes should be wiped off carefully before they are put away; and the shoe tree is as essential to the shoe as the coat hanger is to the coat. Each helps to preserve the original shape. Remember, a shoe tree used is a pair of shoes saved.—Woman's Home Companion.

BREAKFAST GOWN AND CAP

Photograph by Underwood & Underwood

The semi-fitting decorative gown has now taken the place of the old fashioned wrappers. Accompanying them are the little caps which coquettishly confine the loose ends of the hair in the early day. The gown is of crepe, as is the cap. The kimono sleeve has been modified to suit the present style.

Amber Bead Necklaces.
A pretty second empire fashion that was especially noticeable at one of the smartest social functions of the week is the wearing of long chains of amber beads. No other jewelry is worn, except, perhaps, a buckle or cabochon of amber, for the brilliant yellow would kill any other stones, however beautiful or valuable. Some of the chains are so long that they reach almost to the hem of the skirt, and others are shorter, not appearing below the waistline. These necklaces look charming when worn with simple white frocks of broderie Anglaise, lace or muslin.

Father and the boys appreciate the garden at meal time during the vegetable season, if at no other time.

When building that dairy barn be sure to make it large enough to accommodate the growth of your business.

It is the amount of food over and above the quantity required to sustain the life of the animal that counts for profit.

PICKLING TIME.

The thrifty housekeeper likes to "put up" some of the old-fashioned relishes which, in spite of the good things in cans to be bought are never equaled by those mother used to make.

Chow-Chow.—Prepare and cut in small pieces the following vegetables: Two quarts of green tomatoes, twelve small cucumbers, three red peppers, one cauliflower, two bunches of celery, one pint of small onions and two quarts of string beans. Cover with salt and let stand twenty-four hours, then drain. Heat a gallon of vinegar, add a half ounce each of allspice, pepper and cloves, two ounces of tumeric and a fourth of a pound of mustard seed. When boiling add the vegetables and cook until soft.

Chili Sauce.—Peel and slice twelve medium-sized ripe tomatoes. Put them into a kettle with one pepper chopped fine, one onion also chopped, two cups of vinegar, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a tablespoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of cloves, two of cinnamon, two of allspice and two of grated nutmeg. Cook all together two and a half hours very slowly.

Sweet Pickled Peaches.—Boil together two pounds of brown sugar, a pint of vinegar, and an ounce of stick cinnamon twenty minutes. Dip the peaches in boiling water and rub off the fur with a towel; stick each peach with four cloves. Put them into the sirup and boil soft, using half of the peaches at a time. This recipe uses half a peck of peaches.

Preserved Melon Rind.—Pare and cut in strips the rind of ripe melons. Soak in alum water, allowing a teaspoonful of alum to a quart of water. Heat gradually to the boiling point, and cook ten minutes. Drain, cover with ice water and let stand two hours; drain, add a cup of water to each pound, and pound for pound of sugar. Boil the sugar and water ten minutes; add the melon rind and cook until tender. Remove the rind to a stone jar and cover with the sirup. Two lemons sliced are often added to the melon while cooking.

Nellie Maxwell.

It is just as important that every horse should have his own collar all the time as that the man should wear his own shoes.

Where young orchards are kept perfectly clean by cultivation, there is seldom much injury sustained from mice during the winter.

Young hens should not be set after their first laying of eggs. By the time they want to set the second time they will make good mothers.

The greatest crop the farmers of the world have raised has been Liberty and Freedom. The oppressed farmer is never a good farmer.

With a good corn crop almost ready to crib and plenty of other feed every farmer should prepare to raise and fatten a few hogs this year.

If you have had a crop fail for you two or three times it will pay to look deeper than mere climatic conditions. Probably there are other causes which you can remove.

"In the shade of the old apple tree" is a mighty good place to spend a few minutes at noon these hot days. A little rest at noon gives speed to the work of the afternoon.

It costs just as much in soil fertility to raise a weed as to raise a wheat or oat stalk. Land is not resting if it is raising weeds. Even they ought to be plowed down for fertility.

Now is the time to swat the mites, and be sure that it is a mighty swat, because the pesky mite is a mighty mean mite of an insect that is the bugaboo of egg production.

A whole lot of farmers would better sell their cows and buy their milk and butter. It would be cheaper than the price they are now paying, although they do not realize it.

Constant care is one of the secrets of success in the breeding or feeding of stock of all kinds. It is only the man who likes such work that will measure up to the greatest success.

Some crops have root systems which go much deeper than the soil is plowed or broken up. It takes strength to send down the roots which might be used in sending up stalk. Deep plowing pays.

Beet growing is beginning to become a very profitable as well as a popular crop in many sections. The general price is $5.00 per ton and the general yield in many sections runs up to 20 tons and better.

A well-known seedsman states that maggots can be prevented from destroying onions by sprinkling along the rows of onion plants sand scented with kerosene. Stir half a pint of oil into ten quarts of sand.

Gluten meal and gluten feeds are by-products left in the manufacture of starch and glucose from Indian corn. Corn consists largely of starch. The waste product from the manufacture of starch or sugar is relatively much richer in oil and protein than corn. Many factories are removing part of the corn oil from the waste, so that some gluten meals carry but little oil.

ROUGH SCALY SKIN

Little Patches That Peel off and Form Again.

Try this Remedy at Our Risk.

Most skin diseases are eruptions accompanied by itching. But there is another kind in which small patches of scales appear and fall off, followed by another crop. This may spread all over the body and become almost incurable.

A soothing application of Saxo Salve, our new skin remedy, should be made. This is very healing and penetrates through the outer layer of skin to the very seat of the trouble, destroying the germs. Treated in this way, as directed by the book in the box, the scaly patches disappear and are replaced by smooth, healthy skin. Saxo Salve is wonderfully healing and soothing in all forms of skin diseases, eczema, barber's itch, ringworm, etc., and we guarantee it to satisfy you, paying back your money if it does not. Anything May Happen.
"What are you sniffing at?"
"I see here a report that a child was born with a full set of teeth."
"Well?"
"How do such impossible reports get abroad?"
"Do not be too incredulous. Strange things happen. Seems to me that I have heard a report that a Boston child was once born with eyeglasses."

Voluble.

"I suppose your wife had something to say to you about staying out late last night?"
"Not a thing."
"So did mine. She doesn't need to have anything to say in order to talk."
